Bachelor of Science in Business Management Major

Undergraduate Student Intern for WaterAid and International NGO
London, United Kingdom
What was the name of the company you interned for and what did you do?

Last semester I interned for the Corporate Partnerships/Business Development departments at WaterAid, and International NGO that works to supply clean water, decent toilets, and good hygiene to the world's poorest communities. I worked on partnership proposals for companies such as Inditex (Zara) in Spain, ITP in India, and Firstrand bank in South Africa, along with trust/foundation prospect research in preparation for the upcoming world economic forum in Davos, Switzerland.
How have the BCLC Immersion Trips influenced your decision to study abroad?

The BCLC immersion trips have given me an initial education about international business, development, and cultures, as well as a glance into certain industries that peaked my interest. After going to Austria, Hungary, and Ireland with the BCLC I was inspired to continue my international education and sought to complete an academic internship in London.
